Jack-Lyndon Ticket Pleases Ohio Democrats

DiSalle Says Kennedy To Visit State's Rural Areas Next Month

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Buckeye delegates at the Democratic national convention hailed Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson today as a winning combination for the November election campaign.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who lined up Ohio's 64 convention votes solidly for the ticket, said Kennedy planned to start a series of Ohio appearances next month, mainly in rural areas. Later visits will include major cities and possibly the Ohio State Fair, he added.

And Patrick J. Feeney of Columbus announced formation of an Ohio Youth for Kennedy Committee to establish branches throughout the state for the campaign. Feeney is president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Ohio.

"Working through the various local Young Democratic Clubs of Ohio, we expect to have a chapter of the committee organized in each of Ohio's 88 counties and on all of the college campuses in the state," Feeney said. He named Donald Tishman, Columbus attorney, to head the new committee.

"Johnson will be a great asset as a campaigner," DiSalle said of the tall Texan. Although the governor worked during opening days of the convention for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as a Kennedy running mate, he termed Johnson an acceptable candidate.

DiSalle, who kept in personal contact daily with Kennedy, announced the nominee's preference for Johnson at an Ohio caucus shortly before Thursday night's session that completed the ticket.

"Kennedy and Johnson can win in Ohio," he told the caucus. DiSalle urged delegates to show the same united front for Johnson that enabled them to cast a larger undivided bloc of votes for Kennedy's nomination than any other state.

On a motion by Harvey Johnson, Cleveland Negro delegate at large, the caucus agreed by voice vote to support Johnson's nomination.

DiSalle reported Kennedy's preference for the Texas senator after conferences with Kennedy and separate groups of northern and southern governors.

"Southern governors are very strong in feeling that Johnson would be a necessity in view of Kennedy's acceptance of a liberal platform," DiSalle said. "The opposition of the southern states to the platform was less violent than in previous sessions," he added.

"We will be faced with the civil rights issue and Johnson's stand on some other issues," DiSalle continued. "But when you compare Johnson's record, it compares very favorably."

The governor reported a general feeling in the Kennedy camp that Ohio gave impetus to the Massachusetts senator's campaign. DiSalle endorsed Kennedy early last January.

"Other governors seem to have respect for Ohio because her delegates remained solidly united for Kennedy while other states split," he said.

DiSalle indicated that he passed up a chance to nominate Johnson because he felt it would leave Ohio in a better position for federal favors if Democrats win next November. But the governor has said repeatedly that he is not interested in a Washington appointment.

Some delegates expressed disappointment in Kennedy's preference

Ashville Boy, 8, Suffers Shock, Severe Burns

Young Gary McCollister, 8, is reported in fair condition in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, today. He suffered severe electrical burns yesterday. Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McCollister, Hedges St., Ashville, tied a rock to a piece of wire, then threw it over a high tension wire. The resulting shock burned him badly.

He was treated by an Ashville physician then transferred to the Columbus hospital.

Johnson Named By Democrats For Veep Post

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy formally accepts the Democratic presidential nomination tonight, with party liberals bemoaning his endorsement of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate.

In a dramatic but highly traditional decision Thursday Kennedy compromised with the political realities of a threatened

Southern bolt and wheeled on Johnson, the majority leader of the Senate, as his vice presidential nominee.

The Massachusetts senator thus took a practical step toward quieting a growing Dixie rebellion. But he reared in return some protests from party liberals who felt they had been influential in his top-place nomination and deserved better of their efforts than a middle-of-the-road vice presidential candidate.

Kennedy could placate these dissenters, however, with a liberal acceptance speech tonight and the choice of one of this group to succeed Paul M. Butler as the party's national chairman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington was tabbed as a leading candidate for this job.

There was one report, quickly denied by both the Kennedy and Johnson camps, that Johnson was chosen at his own insistence. The report came from John S. Knight, publisher of the Knight newspapers, in a copyrighted story he wrote for his newspapers.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, described the report as "completely and absolutely untrue."

"Sen. Kennedy asked Sen. Johnson to run, and Sen. Johnson accepted," Salinger added.

In a statement issued later through his office, Kennedy himself described the story as "pure and absolute fabrication with no basis in fact. I visited Sen. Johnson at approximately 10:30 this (Thursday) morning. Thereafter, after consulting leaders of the Democratic party around the country, I asked him if he would accept the position of the vice presidency. The subject matter was brought up completely on my own initiative."

A spokesman for Johnson also said there was "absolutely nothing to the story."

Knight wrote that Johnson had passed the word to Sen. Kennedy's brother Robert that, having been defeated by Kennedy for the presidential nomination, he wanted second place and would fight for it on the floor of the convention if necessary.

Confronted with this, Knight said, the presidential nominee agreed to take Johnson. The latter has tossed off some nasty cracks about the Massachusetts senator's immaturity in the face of a demand for world leadership from the presidential office.

Johnson's friends, of course, didn't agree with this version. They frankly couldn't figure why the Senate leader would be willing to trade his position for the vice presidency which, even in its advanced status, is a job in which one man stands in preparedness for another's death.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who urged Johnson not to take second place, shook his head and sighed a little sadly at the outcome which was formally ratified by the Democratic convention Thursday night.

Rayburn's explanation was that Johnson had been offered the spot and replied in simple language

Ike May Ask Half Billion In Latin Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration was reported today to be planning to ask the August session of Congress to authorize a special Latin-American loan fund which could range up to 500 million dollars.

The proposed fund would launch President Eisenhower's announced new aid program for Latin America. It would open up an entirely new field of loans for housing and land resettlement.

Details of the program, including the amount, are still under discussion. Agreement is expected by the time President Eisenhower returns from his Newport, R. I., vacation.

If authorized at the August session, a request for appropriation of funds probably would not be made until the new Congress meets next January.

Under the program, the United States would make long-term dollar loans which could be repayable in local currencies. Direct grants would not be involved except in special circumstances.

'Age of Inattention' Blamed For Rudeness at Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This has been called the age of inattention, and home viewers of the 1960 Democratic National Convention might say amen to that.

"Clear the aisles! We must have order! Will the delegates take their seats!"

Those were the most-heard words at the Sports Arena, more heard than even "the man who" and "the next president of the United States."

All three networks report that they have received many complaints from viewers about the rudeness to speakers at the convention. Citizens said they were shocked to see delegates and spectators talking, reading, and even sleeping while distinguished Americans were addressing them. Convention Chairman LeRoy Collins has almost grieved a hoi in the pounding block in an effort to gain order.

"This is just an extension of the House or the Senate," explained convention director J. Leonard Reinsch, who was not alarmed at the situation. "When a man is speaking in the Senate, you see his colleagues reading newspapers. When there is something that everyone wants to hear, you get quiet."

At first, the TV commentators blamed the noisiness on the acoustics in the brand-new Sports Arena. But on Wednesday night something strange happened. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt came to the podium, and the entire arena hushed. She almost could have spoken without a loudspeaker.

The acoustics weren't at fault. Other things were, and not merely the congressional habit of ignoring speakers. Among them:

1. The business of politics. It goes on all the time on the convention floor. Politicians gab and shake hands and confer and take votes with casual disregard of what is happening on the podium.

2. The quality of the speeches. TV viewers have learned anew that they can't look at national conventions with the expectation of hearing much that is fresh and incisive and well-spoken. Delegates are even more immune to oratory.

3. The immensity of the meeting. The mere vastness of the Sports Arena makes it difficult for anyone to hold the interest of 15,000 human beings.

4. The TV crews. The networks themselves must take some of the blame for the hoopla on the convention floor. They are competing fiercely with each other. Their portable cameras, called creepers, peepers prowling the aisles for news beats. To this date, no living politician has passed up a chance to appear on TV.

But the basic fault may lie, as some social observers claim, with an era in which it's hard to get anyone to concentrate on anything. Folks are dinned on all sides to buy deodorants, get out the vote, drive safely, etc., so that they shut their minds to all but the most urgent appeals.

General Tele Rate Hearing Near End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Basic hearings on General Telephone Co. of Ohio's application for a 17 percent rate increase were expected to be completed today, Utilities Commission counsel Andrew R. Sarisky said.

In Thursday's session, counsel for 33 cities and villages that would be affected by the rate increase finished cross-examining company witnesses, and commission witnesses began testifying.

The protesting communities' attorney, John A. Eckler of Columbus, said he did not plan to cross-examine the commission's witnesses, Sarisky said.

The company wants a $2,941,651 annual rate increase. The company served almost 900,000 persons in 70 counties with about 200,000 telephones.

U.S. Gets Tough With Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, under heavy Soviet pounding, has largely abandoned its postsummit policy of seeking businesslike negotiations with Moscow and is switching to a get-tough strategy of its own.

Evidence of this change is already becoming apparent. It will be fully developed at the United Nations next week when the United States and the Soviet Union join battle over charges and countercharges of threats to world peace.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his top aides are reported to be preparing a massive verbal assault on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's activities since he torpedoes the summit conference at Paris two months ago.

President Eisenhower is described by officials here as fed up with Khrushchev's incessant campaign of accusations against the United States. He apparently feels that Khrushchev's hostile policy leaves no recourse except to strike back hard.

Two moves by the State Department Thursday reflected the developing new tough line. The department announced a note to Moscow calling off indefinitely negotiations scheduled for next Monday on an air transport agreement between the two countries.

This step was blamed on "recent Soviet actions and utterances" which, the department said, have poisoned the atmosphere for negotiation.

At the same time the department issued a new warning to Khrushchev to keep his hands off Latin American countries, particularly Cuba. It denounced him for claiming that the 137-year-old Monroe Doctrine of America for the Americas is out of date and for trying to scuttle the U.S.-Cuban treaty covering the American naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

Khrushchev, the department asserted, is trying to establish a "Bolshevik doctrine" under which he would make use of "Soviet military power in support of Communist movements anywhere in the world."

Kid Auto Thieves To Wash Vehicles

CINCINNATI (AP)—Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz has figured out a punishment for first offenders among Cincinnati's juvenile automobile thieves.

They'll be put to work washing and waxing city and county government cars.

"Kids seem to have an obsession about cars these days," Judge Schwartz said. "But maybe if they have to break their backs washing and waxing these cars for a while they won't be so fascinated."

"In fact, they may hate the sight of an automobile before they're finished."

Let's Pass These New Laws Before Republican Convention

By SAUL PETT
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Do you suffer from the overweight, migraine, gastric discomfort, arthritis, congestion and depressive effects of national political conventions?

This week 6 out of 10 Americans do.

It's time we did something about it. After a crash research program, conducted at great personal risk and sacrifice through five conventions, I am now authorized to offer this cure. Henceforth, in all national political conventions, I would:

Limit all demonstrations to 46 seconds and participation to one man over 70 playing a kazoo.

Eliminate all extroverts in funny hats, amateur photographers, sleepers, readers, aisle minglers, late-comers, celebrity clutches and television camera huggers—which does not quite mean all the politicians and delegates.

Require all nominating speeches to be mailed, not spoken, to the convention by fourth class mail and all seconding speeches be limited to the adjectives one can get on the back of a postcard.

With the shelving of the prospective negotiations on a U. S. — Soviet air agreement, the question has arisen here whether the negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union on a treaty barring nuclear weapons tests will be continued at Geneva.

State Department officials said Washington has no intention of breaking off the nuclear test conference and they doubt that Moscow will do so. This three-power negotiation therefore stands as the only important exception to the general collapse of East-West diplomacy.

Reds May Act Alone in Congo

Khrush Doubts U.N. Action Is 'Enough'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared today the United Nations resolution on the Congo may not be enough. He said the Soviet Union is ready to act "to halt the aggression" there "if those states which are carrying on direct aggressions against the Congo do not stop their criminal measures."

This was disclosed in a message from The Congo's President, Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Soviet news agency Tass quoted the Congo leaders as messaging Khrushchev Thursday "We will be compelled to ask for intervention by the Soviet Union if the Western camp does not desist from aggression."

In his message Khrushchev spoke of the U.N. resolution as ranging for a U.N. force to go to the Congo.

"The Security Council did a useful thing in adopting a resolution calling for the withdrawal of the Belgian troops from the Congo."

If the aggression continues in spite of this decision, the Soviet government declares that the necessity would arise for both the United Nations and those peace-loving states which sympathize with the Congo to take more effective measures," the message said.

"If those states which are carrying on direct aggression against the Congo do not stop their criminal measures, the Soviet Union will not hesitate to take decisive measures to halt the aggression."

Khrushchev's warning followed an earlier caution against intervention by the Western nations in the Congo. He said Monday Western countries, led by the United States, were trying to reimpose a colonial rule over the Congo less than two weeks after it received independence from Belgium.

The Congolese government of Premier Patrice Lumumba faced a renewed threat from the rich province of Katanga, whose provincial assembly Thursday night approved secession from the central government and demanded recognition of "all free-world countries" as an independent territory.

Provincial President-Premier Moise Tsimbe warned the United Nations that the U. N. task force being rushed to the Congo would not be admitted to Katanga. He cabled U. N. headquarters in New York that all was quiet in the province with the aid of Belgian troops and invited Bunche to visit Katanga and see for himself how peaceful things are here.

Ghana Army Unit Greeted With Cheers

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (AP)—Ghana today delivered the first token detachment for the international military force ordered by the U. N. Security Council to the chaotic Congo to help restore order.

Maj. Gen. Henry Alexander, British commander of Ghana's small army, and a small detachment of his troops set up headquarters in a downtown hotel to roars of approval from hundreds of Congolese gathered outside.

"All we are trying to do is to get everybody to put down their arms and not to do anything foolish or anything silly," a Ghanaian spokesman said.

Alexander, after a talk with U. N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, held a staff meeting in the hotel lobby.

The commander of the U. N. force, Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn, leaves Jerusalem by plane today for The Congo, bringing with him 11 military advisers of various nationalities, 5 radio technicians, and 5 security guards.

Tunisia dispatched an advance party of six police officers Thursday night. The North African country said it would send 500 soldiers.

Bunche said Thursday he expected perhaps 2,400 troops by early next week from Ghana, Tunisia, Morocco, Guinea, and Mali.

U. S. Air Force planes were expected to start landing at Leopoldville Airport with the first part of 300 tons of flour President Eisenhower Thursday ordered sent to the hunger-threatened new African nation.

Arrival of the first tiny U. N. detachment seemed to create a new and more relaxed atmosphere. Long lines of Belgian refugees in automobiles still waited to take the ferry across to Brazzaville, but there was an easier air about the city.

Some stores reopened and Congolese collected peacefully at their places of employment to get their midmonthly pay.

Belgian troops were still in control of the city and had fanned out over a large part of the country to which Belgium had given independence only two weeks ago.

Belgium has more than 6,000 soldiers in the Congo, including 4,000 holdovers from colonial days by agreement with the new republic and 2,000 others flown in when the disorders broke out after independence. The U. N. resolution authorizing the special force calls for their withdrawal, but top Belgian officials said only the additional men sent since trouble broke out would be pulled out of the country. The rest, they said, would be pulled back to the bases retained by Belgium after The Congo was given independence.

The Congolese government of Premier Patrice Lumumba faced a renewed threat from the rich province of Katanga, whose provincial assembly Thursday night approved secession from the central government and demanded recognition of "all free-world countries" as an independent territory.

Provincial President-Premier Moise Tsimbe warned the United Nations that the U. N. task force being rushed to the Congo would not be admitted to Katanga. He cabled U. ## Priest Is Beaten, Robbed by Youths

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest from a suburb of Steubenville, Ohio, was beaten and robbed in Pittsburgh early today by three youths.

The Rev. Charles Sargus, 42, of the Blessed Sacrament Church of Winterville, was hospitalized with a possible skull fracture, two black eyes and face cuts.

Police said the youths pulled Father Sargus into their car in the downtown section. They drove to the North Side where the priest was beaten and robbed of $5 and a watch valued at $50. The youths fled in the car.

for Johnson as a running mate over Symington.

"I'm not happy with Johnson," said Mayor Charles L. Babcock of Canton, "but I will go along with what Kennedy wants. I think the ticket will win in November but I like Symington better."

His assertions appeared to reflect the sentiments of some other delegates who expressed an early preference for Symington over Kennedy. Barely a handful of delegates stood openly for Johnson as before the convention opened. A few said they liked twice-nominated Adlai E. Stevenson.

When Johnson's name was placed in nomination, Lake County Chairman Joseph E. Sarosy of Painesville, an 11th District delegate, carried the Ohio standard in the convention floor demonstration that followed.

Mrs. Helen T. Gunsett of Van Wert, Ohio national committee-woman, presented a resolution, adopted by the convention, thanking Mrs. Katie Louchheim, vice president of the national committee, and other officers and staff members for their work at the sessions. Mrs. Louchheim is convention director of women's activities.

Burning Car Ends in Field

A car owned by Evan Miller, 51, Route 2, Ashville, was destroyed by fire at 1:30 a. m. today on Route 752 and Noecker Road eight miles northeast of here.

Miller told Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams the 1952 model auto caught fire while he was headed west on Route 752. He said in the excitement he passed a stop sign and crashed into a field.

Deputy Adams said Miller was not injured. He said the plunging car knocked down a section of farm fence and a state traffic sign post.

Some Labor Chiefs Cool On Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some top labor union leaders say they are stunned and unhappy over the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson to be No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket. But they count on some early benefits.

Some other union officials welcomed the choice of the Senate majority leader for the vice presidential spot.

Those looking for quick gains figure that with Johnson as the running mate of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the party's presidential nominee, the chances are good of pushing through some long-wanted labor goals when Congress reconvenes in August. As Senate majority leader, Johnson wields power over legislation.

Most, if not all, such goals are contained in the platform adopted here earlier by the Democrats.

The labor union chiefs attending the convention held a secret meeting Thursday night after the convention had ratified Kennedy's choice of Johnson to be vice presidential nominee.

The group included George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union. Reuther is an influence in the big Michigan delegation which glumly refrained from any applause when Johnson was nominated.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said for the record he was "stunned and shocked" at the sudden selection of Johnson, the man Kennedy had beaten for the party top prize.

Stock Mart Prices Edge Toward Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market kept a narrow edge to the upside in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Fractional gains outnumbered small losses among pivotal issues. A number of leaders was unchanged and a few issues made gains of 1 or more points, some recovering from recent sharp losses.

The average was suspended about a "support" level regarded as a test area by Wall Street charists. If the level were to hold, a rally could be expected. If it should be pierced, a further sharp decline would be the likelihood.

Little news backgrounded the market as very small changes prevailed among steels, autos, rails, drugs, oils, and building materials.

Nonferrous metals, electrical equipments, mail order retailers and electronics showed a higher trend. Aircrafts and tobaccos lost a little ground.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.36 at 632.68. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 to 219.30 with the industrials up .30 and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

Corporate and government bonds advanced.

Thief Suspect Is Held Here

James E. White, 18, Route 2, Laurelville, was picked up last night by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in connection with the theft of money from the Deputy Registrar's office in the courthouse.

White is accused of taking $9.95 in change and a money bag. Deputies Homer Adams and Dwight Radcliff said White apparently climbed a partition to gain access to the office.

The deputies said most of the money and the money bag were recovered following White's apprehension. Deputy Registrar Joe Brink reported the theft yesterday.

Deputies said White was seen in the vicinity of the office several times prior to the theft.

Damaged Tanker Spews Oil Cargo

NEW YORK (AP) — A hole was ripped in the hull of an oil tanker early today, and heavy fuel oil from its 22,575-ton cargo spewed into the East River at a spot near the United Nations building.

The 603-foot Panamanian tanker Alkaid hit an unidentified submerged object while bound upstream.

The captain ran his ship to the Manhattan shore, and it was tied to the sea wall with its decks awash.

The ship listed 14 degrees to starboard as oil poured from the hole in the hull on the port side under the water line.

$1 Billion U.S. Surplus Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government next week will announce a fiscal 1960 budget surplus closer to one billion dollars than to the 200 million dollars President Eisenhower forecast in January, government sources reported Thursday.

Revenues have run higher and federal outlays somewhat lower than the figures sent to Congress in Eisenhower's budget message. Those were $78,600,000,000 in revenues and $78,400,000,000 in outlays for the fiscal year that ended June 3.

Therefore, despite earlier official predictions that the 1959 steel strike might throw the budget into red ink, the administration will turn in its third balanced budget in seven years.

Officials in recent months have been gradually revising upward their guessing on the surplus. Informants said it now appears that the surplus will be between three-fourths of a billion and a billion dollars.

An almost-final tally will be made available in the Treasury's statement of operations for June. This is due about the middle of next week.

There has been speculation however that Eisenhower himself might announce the figures beforehand in a special statement. The complete accounting will not be ready until about October.

The rising incomes of Americans resulted in unexpectedly heavy individual income tax payments to boost the fiscal 1960 revenues. Personal income is expected to continue to rise this year and should help the administration meet its goal of a $4,300,000,000 surplus in the new fiscal year which started July 1.

However, Congress will deal with several major money matters in its August return session, and some have predicted that it may add a billion dollars or so to the $79,800,000,000 spending program envisioned in the Eisenhower budget.

Tax collections from individuals, officials said, have more than offset a lag in corporation tax payments. Corporate profits since mid-1959 so far this year have not matched official expectations.

Doctors are stumped. Bernadette first was struck down last fall. At one time she slept 16 straight days and had to be fed intravenously.

Last Saturday, while visiting her sister at Mount Sinai Hospital, Venita complained of dizziness. The next day she complained again, was admitted to the hospital and passed into a coma.

Henry Ford Again Holds Top Positions

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II, 41, as he did his auto pioneer grandfather, now stands alone as the top boss of the Ford Motor Co.

The resignation Wednesday of Ernest R. Breech as company board chairman led to this. Ford, president, also took over the board chairmanship.

Breech, 63, said he was leaving the Ford chairmanship in order to make room for younger blood. He said he had been considering the move for some time.

Breech continues as a board member and chairman of the finance committee and a member of the products planning committee.

The Ford company presidency always has been in the Ford family. Henry Ford II's father, Edsel, was president for a quarter century as successor to the original Henry Ford, his father. Upon Edsel's death in 1943, his father returned to the presidency. Henry II was brought home from the Navy to become vice president and later executive vice president. In 1945 the elder Ford retired and Henry II became president.

Stringent Passport Denial

Whatever result was hoped to be accomplished by the Senate Judiciary Committee's okaying of the most stringent passport denial legislation yet conceived has been lost by the method of achievement. Fortunately for the preservation of individual liberties, the bill now before the Senate probably has little chance of being passed.

Sponsored by Senator Dodd and Senator Keating, the proposed legislation not only reinstates the "right" of government to restrict free travel by American citizens, but gives to one man—an appointed official at that—the power of denial. Further, the bill specifically excuses the secretary of state from stating his reasons for denial.

What the lawmakers had in mind was to prevent American detractors from freely traveling a world circuit sponsored by communism releasing anti-American diatribes. This objective is a worthy one. Such persons in the past have given aid and comfort to the communist propaganda cause by being widely acclaimed as great "liberals" by Peiping, Moscow and all the little satellite capitals, accepting Lenin or Stalin prizes (for their efforts toward creating world peace, of course) and even by treasonous anti-American speeches out side the borders of the United States.

There are, however, more sensible weapons available to punish those who hold citizenship in a nation they condemn and belittle in the eyes of the world than a blanket denial of travel beyond geographic borders. Vicious slander against a country by one of its nationals historically has been cause for indictment for treason.

If the Justice Department should find, upon reviewing rules and statutes, that nothing can be done to prevent undesirables from spreading their poison abroad, the cause of American freedom is only tarnished in world opinion by such an arbitrary passport denial.

More important to Americans than the reflection of the country's image in world opinion would be the damage done to a concept of government almost unique in the world. The founders of the Republic would heatedly condemn the abandonment of such a basic right as free travel. So will their heirs if they wish to preserve a life which thrives only on the principles of basic freedoms.

No Sugar Shortage Seen

There will be no world sugar shortage, however disrupted the Cuban market becomes, analysis of statistics suggests. This year's world production will be approximately 50 million tons, or slightly more than world consumption. But there is a surplus of nearly 14 million tons left over from past harvests.

Washington anticipates no difficulty in finding other suppliers to fill the void left by Cuba. And there is no lack of shipping to move it to these shores.

In Defense of Pipe Smokers

By Hal Boyle

AP staff writer Hugh Mulligan, writing in this space on Wednesday, said it was high time some high-minded crusader took out after pipe smokers. Mulligan, assuming the crusader's role, did so. In this article, staff writer George Cornell, a pipe smoker, takes off after Mulligan.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — All red-blooded citizens will rise to protest the attack that has been made on that noble comforter, the pipe.

It is an American institution, peace and peace. It is a well of inspiration and a thing of beauty. Those who know the finer joys of tobacco are the pipe smokers. The pipe is a steady companion and friend, a faithful counselor, that the pipe is an ancient bulwark of culture; the cigar and cigarette relatively modern upstarts.

The pipe is an instrument of gracious esteem. It receives care and affection. It is a thing of permanence, value and distinction. You do not devour, or inhale the smoke of a pipe. You savour it.

It imparts a temperate outlook in the spirit of its user—an awareness that the blessings of life should not be abused, that they deserve respect and concern.

It is thus that the pipe instills trust, encourages contemplation and a reflective, balanced view of life. It is the handmaiden of thought and creativity. It has enlarged the mind of man.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh sang the glories of the pipe to the courts of Europe, it has given inspiration and solace to poets, philosophers, statesmen dramatists and historians.

The pipe is the builder of dreams. Complaints about its scent are absurd. The air of any room is fallow and without life until it has been sweetened by the fragrance of some delicate pipe mixture.

There is almost a religious element about a pipe. In fact, it had its first uses in the ancient ceremonies of the Mayans in Mexico and Muskogee Indians of southwestern America, those wise and stout-hearted men.

It was the "pipe of peace," that great Calumet adorned with eagle feathers, that signified the restoration of amity among the tribes.

A supply of good, old briars, with the incense wafting through the halls, would probably do more for restraint and patience in world diplomacy than any other contribution.

Hal Boyle, a cigar smoker, is on vacation.

Non-Profit Not Always That

By George Sokolsky

Tax exemption is a privilege granted organizations which raise funds for charity, education and similar unprofitable enterprises. (The preferred usage is "non-profit" which begs the question.) The concept is that the income tax is collected on money profits, spiritual profits being unmeasurable.

At one stage, the mere assertion of intent was sufficient to make an organization or a Foundation tax exempt. Today the Treasury is more strict, requiring evidence that the association exists for a good purpose and not to give jobs to its organizers and trustees who evade the tax by taking the profits as salaries and expenses.

Furthermore, it is essential that the evidence be clear that the organization, whatever its stated purpose, has not been established as an income tax evasion gimmick, as is so often the case. When a Foundation comes into existence which gives evidence that those in control of it, or a number of them, draw off the funds as salaries for themselves, the Treasury is entitled to investigate the bona fides of the operation.

On the other hand, the Treasury sometimes makes distinctions which are political in nature and therefore unfair. For instance, it seems to be that a sharp political distinction is made when the Committee of One Million (Against the Admission of Communist China to the United Nations), is refused tax exemption whereas such exemption is granted to the Institute of Pacific Relations.

The Committee of One Million exists to publish educational material in opposition to the admission of Red China to the United Nations. Its officers include a number of distinguished persons.

On the other hand, in 1955, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue revoked the tax-exempt privilege of the Institute of Pacific Relations, after hearings before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, for Communist involvement. On March 31, 1960, the I. P. R.'s tax-exempt privilege was restored. This was done perhaps in the spirit of Camp David. Will the privilege be revoked now that Camp David has laid its ghost?

In a word, there seems to be no fixed policy except that the Treasury goes easy on Left Wing organizations and is tough on Right Wing organizations or vice versa which is equally unjust. If this view is correct, it means that the Treasury is using the tax-exempt privilege as a political weapon to strengthen organizations which a current administration favors or to weaken and even eliminate organizations which are not favored.

A tax-exempt organization ought to be defined as a charitable or educational body which earns no profit and none of whose officers and directors (except an executive or administrator) draws a salary or has an expense account.

When, for instance, a Foundation consists of a few front names but all its other officers draw salaries, have expense accounts, or in any other way enjoy a monetary profit because of its existence, then it requires investigation. Also if money is raised for one purpose and expended for another, the Foundation is a fraud.

This obviously is happening to a large number of Foundations, the purposes of which are perverted by the hired staff. The front-runner trustees are usually "great names" busy on a hundred fronts and attending to few.

Heretofore every effort by Congress to investigate Foundations and tax exemptions has failed largely because the very rich and influential Foundations have succeeded in bringing pressure against investigation. Furthermore, many businesses would fall apart if the Foundations which hold their stock were subjected to too much scrutiny.

The income tax and the inheritance tax do mischief to family businesses and to smaller enterprises. The only way to keep such businesses intact is to leave their stock to a non-profit making Foundation, which uses the money for good causes if it can find any. The heirs of the founder are usually kept on, working for a substantial salary, on which, of course, they pay income taxes.

The income and inheritance taxes of this country tend toward monopoly. The only way honestly to meet the current tax requirements and to keep some money is to sell out and make a capital gains.

Sociologically, this is very bad because it tends to strengthen monopolistic practices. The Department of Justice attempts to balk this process by anti-trust procedures but it has not been successful. One significant result has been the managerial seizure of authority.

A VISITING ORIENTAL encountered considerable difficulty translating some American maxims into his native Japanese, but "Out of sight, out of mind," gave him no trouble at all. "This means," he jotted in his notebook, "The idiot is unseen."

Just before his death, notes Helen Ferril, the operator of a big filtering plant willed his brain to a scientist. The scientist was sad to hear of the man's death but overjoyed to get his brain. After all, it was the scientist's first chance to see a filtering man's thinker.

Keep Fat Intake Down

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.
Even when dieting, you need a certain amount of fats. They keep the body warm and furnish energy. They delay that hungry feeling. And some act as vitamin carriers.

Such foods as meat, butter and whole milk contain plenty of fats. And, if necessary, your body can manufacture fats from starches and sugars and even from some of the body's proteins.

But when you are dieting, fats should never be a major item in your menu. Also, keep in mind the fact that you need less fat as you grow older.

Recent research seems to indicate that a diet low in animal fats reduces the likelihood of cholesterol deposits forming within the artery walls of your body. Cholesterol is a type of fat.

Such cholesterol deposits might cause hardening of the arteries and sometimes lead to heart attacks and strokes.

There also is some evidence that populations, such as the poor working class in Italy, which eat diets low in animal fats, have a lower rate of heart disease than Americans who, by and large, maintain a diet relatively high in fat content.

And, next to accidents, heart disease is our leading cause of death. I suggest that you cut all fat from the meat you eat. This is a good practice to follow throughout life.

Whether you can see it or not, there is fat in just about any type of meat you eat. In fact, there is plenty of it in the lean meat of a prime steak. Liver, heart and fish have a much lower fat content.

Most types of cheese, except cottage cheese, have an abundant supply.

Now it's important that you make allowances for the hidden fat you eat day in and day out. So cut down on your consumption of fried foods and rich pastries from now on.

The World Today

By James Marlow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president fries a couple of kinds of fish, political and personal.

For years Johnson, 51, has shown signs of aching for the presidential nomination. Therefore, seeing it go this week to Kennedy, eight years his junior, must have been a shattering blow. The fact that Johnson, at Kennedy's request, would accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket looks bewildering at first glance. It makes sense when you lift the lid on this strange political pot and look inside.

Johnson, as Senate leader of the Democrat, for years has had one of the most important and powerful jobs in the country. What he wanted was the most powerful job of all, the presidency.

Compared with either one of them, the vice presidency is a shadowy position.

A vice president traditionally simply presides over the Senate, votes only to break tie votes on the floor, and runs errands for the president.

Johnson, whose Senate term is up this year, without question could be re-elected by Texas and retain his Senate leadership. He still is expected to run for the Senate as well as the vice presidency.

But this happens to be a touchy year in the national political scene.

The South, as it showed at the Democratic convention, was restive and balky over the very liberal civil rights platform plan shoved over its throat by the rest of the convention delegates.

There was a good chance the South in next November's elections would be a lot less than wholehearted in its support of the Democratic ticket headed by Kennedy.

By getting Johnson to run with him, Kennedy went a long way toward pacifying the South, which is where Johnson had his main backing in his unsuccessful bid for the presidential nomination.

So from a political standpoint it makes sense to put Johnson on the ticket as Kennedy's running mate.

But there's a personal element in this. Washington newsmen who have dealt with Johnson for years know he has a gigantic ego. This is precisely why Kennedy's victory over him must have cut the Texan deeply.

It would hardly seem sensible for a man, dressed in the tremendous robes of power worn by a Senate leader, to give up that job for the comparatively less influential post of vice president.

But Johnson, who has talked with newsmen at great length about the nice things said of him over the years, could feel particularly honored if the voters chose him for a job just one heartbeat away from the presidency.

There is more. Johnson, a tremendous manipulator of men, could use the vice presidency in a way not attempted by others who have held that job. He could try to hold the reins of power in the Senate even though someone else succeeded to his present title as Democratic leader.

That's one point. As vice president he would not only sit in the

Supreme Court Shuns Order For Warren Charter Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has refused to compel the city of Warren to conduct an election on a proposed charter.

The high court held that Walter D. Graham, in a taxpayer's suit for a writ of mandamus, failed to "present a clear-cut case of unwarranted, illegal or obstructive tactics." The court pointed out, further, that a one-year period in which the charter should have been voted upon has passed.

The history of the case goes back to May 5, 1959, when Warren elected a commission to frame a charter. The charter was submitted to council last Feb. 3 for submission to the electorate last April 12 in a special election.

Council failed to pass an ordinance requiring that the charter be submitted to a vote, but did pass drafts of ordinances to provide for the advertising of bids and for the appropriation of $5,500 to print copies of the charter for distribution. Mayor Walter Pestrak vetoed the two ordinance drafts.

Graham then went to the high court seeking to compel council to adopt a resolution ordering the election and to compel Pestrak to rescind his veto of the two ordinances which did pass.

The high court's opinion pointed out that it is mandatory for such a charter to be submitted to a vote of the people within one year from a charter commission's election and it is the duty of the council to cooperate to that end.

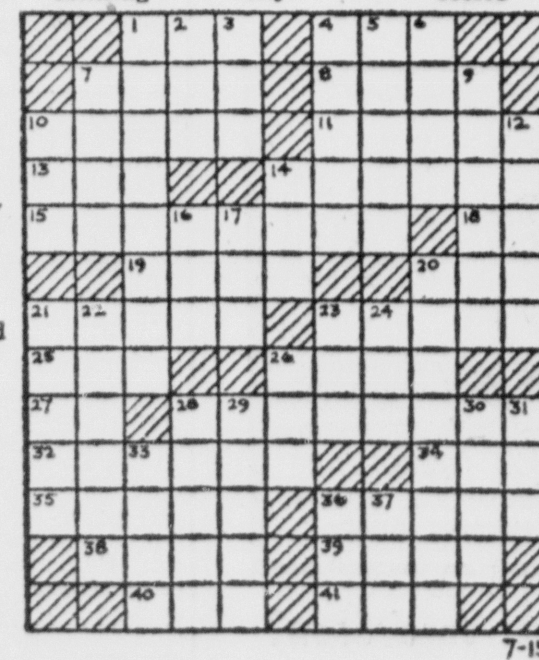

The court observed that, from the record, it appeared there was some friction between Mayor Pestrak and some members of the council and the charter commission. But, it held, the record did not present the clear-cut case of unwarranted, illegal or obstructive tactics necessary to permit the court to grant the writ of mandamus.

The vote was 6-1 with Judge Kingsley Taft dissenting.

Blue Chip Stocks Get Closer Look

Old Reliability Factor Keeps Known Issues in Demand

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street still has an eye for the romance stocks. But recently the blue chips neglected for much of this year have caught the stock trader's fancy, too.

The investing public is likely to get that way about the blue chips when the going is slow and cautious, not to say a bit apprehensive.

The blue chip's conservative reliability is more appreciated than its sisters, the growth stocks, seem a bit less glamorous.

However, it's an attitude that can, and often does, change over night.

The blue chip is the darling of the institutional buyers and of most stock price indexes. But that is more a result of being one than a reason for being one.

How do you tell a blue chip from the multitude of stocks on sale on the country's stock exchanges? And what makes a less well known stock suddenly glamorous?

The romance stocks that have caught the trader's eye this year for a brief or protracted dalliance fall largely into these classes:

SPACE-AGE STOCKS—Shares of companies deemed set to cash in on the spending for space satellites, for missiles and rockets, and electronics in general. Example: Texas Instruments Inc., which sold at around 53 times its annual earnings.

DEFENSE ITEMS—Every time Khrushchev hurls some verbal missiles at the United States, stocks of companies deemed sure to profit by any step up in currently favored forms of defense turn glamorous.

GROWTH STOCKS—Darlings of the long bull market. These are shares of companies that through excellent management, or in up and coming new industries, seem sure to grow faster than the average. Examples are International Business Machines, recently selling at around 55 times its annual earnings, and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing, selling at around 52 times earnings.

NEW PRODUCTS—Glamour also touches stocks of companies that seem sure to grow because of a consumer product that catches wide favor. Prime example: Polaroid, whose stock price climbed to around 80 times its annual earnings.

Such a thing could hardly happen to a blue chip of the old school.

The blue chip used to hold pretty close to a price that was 10 times earnings. But in these days of inflation of most market values, many of them now sell at prices well above that ratio. Before the stock market break early this year some were at 20 times earnings.

Unlike the blue chip, the growth stock usually pays small or no dividends, the company putting earnings back into further growth. In relation to the market price paid, the return to the buyer is quite small in comparison with the higher yield of the blue chip. But the buyer of growth shares is looking for capital gains through rising prices of his stocks more than for dividends.

The blue chip is the tried and true one. Its appeal, both to the institutional buyer and to the compiler of a stock price index, is its stability, its reputation for both conservatism and steady if unspectacular growth, its long record of consistent earnings and regular dividends, its lesser risk of wide price fluctuations. These characteristics cut out many top companies in industries give to marked cycles of output, sales and profits.

Old Navy Pal Cheers For Kennedy

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—"I never thought when we were looking for Jack out there in the Pacific, that it would ever come to this."

So reacted Navy Cmdr. Frazier O'Leary to the Democratic National Convention's nomination of his friend, Sen. John F. Kennedy, for president.

"A definite thrill," said O'Leary. O'Leary was one of the many men who searched for Kennedy and the members of his PT boat crew after their craft was destroyed by the Japanese near Javo Island in World War II.

O'Leary first met Kennedy as a boy in Dorchester, Mass. "Jack's mother lived right across the street from my family," O'Leary said, "and we practically grew up together."

Kennedy later served as O'Leary's best man at his wedding.

O'Leary said he believed Kennedy will win the presidential election "but not without a tough fight."

Jack, at 43, Could Break Age Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. John F. Kennedy wins the presidential election this fall, he will become, at 43, the youngest man ever elected to the presidency and the second youngest ever to hold the office.

If Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 47, wins the Republican nomination as expected and then defeats Kennedy in November, he will be the third youngest president in U. S. history.

The youngest president ever was Theodore Roosevelt, just 10 months past his 42nd birthday when he succeeded to the White House on the death of William McKinley. McKinley was assassinated after less than a year in office. Roosevelt had been vice president.

The youngest president vice president team ever to win a national election was U. S. Grant, 46, and Schuyler Colfax, 45.

The average age of U. S. presidents on the day of their inauguration has been 56.

Members and friends of Calvary EUB Church, met at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the church auditorium for a short devotional period, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Betz. Following the reading of the scripture, a short prayer period was held followed by the group singing a hymn.

To conclude the devotions, a film entitled "A Chance To Grow" was shown by Mr. Dale DeLong.

The group then went into the church annex for a social hour. Mrs. Earl Millrons presented the Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Niswender with a gift (an electric frypan), from the members of the church and Sunday school.

Refreshments were served from a decorated table; the theme of pink and white and a center piece of pink carnations and tall pink tapers adorned the table from which cake, ice cream and iced tea was served to each person.

Hostesses were Mrs. Clark Zwyer, Mrs. Dale DeLong and Mrs. Millrons. The pink carnation center piece was given to Mrs. Pauline McNabb, mother of Mrs. Niswender.

A short recreational period followed, directed by Mrs. Manley Carothers. Several games were played with the following winners: door prize, Mrs. Carrie Stout; bean count, Clark Swayer; donkey game, Mrs. Willis Flowers and Mrs. Niswender; roman star toss, Gary LindeCamp and egg carton toss, Alma Brungs.

At the conclusion of the evening's entertainment, the group viewed the new bulletin board to be placed in the front church yard.

Method: Have fish split and cleaned but not boned; have heads and tails left on; wash and dry. Put each fish on one side of a buttered heartshaped piece of parchment paper large enough to accommodate the fish. Place in and at sides of fish the mushrooms, scallions and tomato wedges. Sprinkle insides of fish and vegetables with salt and pepper. Dot vegetables and top of fish with butter. Fold other half of parchment over fish; beginning at top of heart, seal open cut edges with short overlapping double folds and twist point. ## Dear Abby... By Abigail VanBuren

Get Off His Back, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: Is my husband right or wrong in refusing to attend social functions, some of which concern our children?

We get invitations to school affairs and church suppers, but he flatly refuses to go. I blew my top when he refused to go to a Father-and-Son banquet at the church. To be fair, I must admit he is a good father and a perfect time with the children and me—but he says he has no desire to make small talk with a crowd of people he barely knows.

I say he owes it to his children to attend these affairs whether he likes them or not. If I am wrong, please tell me and I'll never argue the point with him again.

WILLING TO LISTEN

DEAR WILLING: Face it. Your husband is nonsocial. If he gives you and the children all his spare time, that more than offsets his refusal to attend social functions, whether they concern the children or not. Maybe if you'll quit harping about it, one day he'll decide to go.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only five weeks and already I am having trouble. My husband told me he doesn't want me wearing pedal pushers or any kind of shorts in public. He absolutely put his foot down. I used to live in things like that before I was married and he never said a thing against them.

All he says is, "You are my wife now and it is different." Do you think he is fair in his demands?

EMILY

DEAR EMILY: I think he is fair and remarkably intelligent. Do as he says.

DEAR ABBY: Should not appointments be respected by everyone concerned? Why should a patient, who has made an appointment weeks in advance, be made to sit in a reception room for an hour and a half? Surely after years of experience, X-rays in advance, etc., a professional man knows approximately how long it takes to render all services.

My time is as valuable to me as a physician's or a dentist's time is to him. The last call cost me $4.00 for ten minutes with the physician, plus 2½ hours lost in his waiting room. The total was $9.00 plus a lot of aggravation.

SLOW BURN

DEAR SLOW BURN: Physicians are frequently called out on emergency calls. In some instances, patients rush into the office for emergency treatment. Physicians and dentists cannot always know how much time each patient requires. The secret to being a patient patient is to do something else while you're waiting. Your doctor is not fiddling, so don't burn.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Save the liquid from sweet mixed pickle and use in slaw.

Amos Condemns Complacency

GOD IS FULLY COGNIZANT OF THE SINS COM-MITTED BY HIS PEOPLE. THE ISRAELITES, HE MUST PASS JUDGMENT UPON THEM; NEVERTHELESS HE PLEADS WITH HIS PEOPLE TO FORSAKE THEIR SINS

Scripture—Amos 5:14-15; 6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
"IT IS GENERALLY thought that the messages of Amos the prophet, recorded in the book that bears his name, were uttered about 760 B.C."—Peloubet's Select Notes, by the Rev. Dr.
Wilbur M. Smith.

Amos could see clearly the sins of his people, the Israelites, and what dreadful future was in store for them if they did not mend their ways. So he warned them:

"Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came!
Pass ye into Calneh, and see;
and from thence go ye to Hamath the great; then go down to Gath of the Philistines; be they Amos then rebukes those who are living lives of luxury, ignoring things to come. He says,

"Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; That lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; That chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of music; like David; That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph."— Amos 6:3-6.

"Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?"—Amos 6:1-2.

The places which Amos named were "three great and flourishing capitals, because he is speaking to the great men of the capitals of the two kingdoms of Israel and the condition of the whole kingdom is reflected in the circumstances of the capital. Calneh is later Ctesiphon, in the land of Shinar,

Tigris opposite to Seleucia tal of the Syrian kingdom of that name, situated upon the Orontes, and Gath, one of the five capitals of Philistia."— hath sworn by Himself, saith week's lesson, but it is well worth repeating. Don't think that because you go to church son Bougher as alternate.

Plans were announced for the

to help.

Five families volunteered to send used magazines to pen pals in other countries.

The lecturer Mrs. Clyde Michel presented a new 50-star flag to the Master. It had flown over the Flags" was presented with Mrs.

Paul Dawson reader carrying on open Bible, Mrs. Helen Phillips, the American Flag, Miss Betty Beathard, the Christian Flag, Mrs.
Lloyd Neff, the Temperance Flag and Mrs. Francis Furniss, leader lead the pledges of allegiance to each of the flags with group singing appropriate songs after each pledge.

The program closed with group singing "God Bless America."

The next meeting July 26 is in charge of the past and present Masters. A fish fry is planned for all at 6:30 so lets have 100 per cent attendance.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mr.
and Mrs. Wilbur Beathard and daughter Betty.

SCIOTO VALLEY GRANGE

Worthy Master H. A. Bumgarner
presided at the meeting Tuesday.
The treasurer, Harold Fisher, reported the donation by the Hi Fi radio which was installed in the Pickaway County Home.

There was a discussion on the exhibit by the grange at the Pick-away County Fair.

Dorothy Duvall was in charge of the program which consisted of a contest of naming the 22 articles enclosed in an English walnut shell.

Glady's Vause is chairman and her hospitality committee served a lunch to 35 members and guests.
The tables were decorated with flowers furnished by the committee.

Next meeting will be at 8:30
p. m. July 26.

Reason To Cluck

HUMBOLDT, Tenn. (AP)—
Henry Perry believes his hen holds some sort of record. An egg it laid weighed one-half pound, measured 10 inches around the long way, and contained another egg of another color. The outer egg was brown, the inner one white.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Neil F.
McElroy of Cincinnati, former secretary of defense, is a grandfather for the first time. His daughter, Mrs. David Dimling of Day-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R.

G. A. Dimling of Cincinnati.

It's Not Doomsday After All

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP)—
The zero hour passed without
Dr. Elio Bianca's dire prediction of a world shattering cataclysm coming true.

The bearded Milan pediatrician had predicted that a mystery
"mercury bomb" explosion would tilt the world off its axis and touch off a second deluge. Only he and his believers would escape disaster.

So with 100 followers Bianca set up a salvation station on Mt.
Blanc, and calmly prepared to sit out the end of civilization.

Bianca did not say who would touch off the bomb. He said it would be an accident. It would send the seas boiling in over the lowlands of the earth.

The Bianca group headed for the mountain at the start of the month but their preparations were useless.

As the hour approached, Bianca and his followers looked themselves in the hut. About 300 sightseers stood outside. Several minutes after the hour passed, a door of the hut opened and one of Bi-anca's followers put his head outside the door. He was greeted by boos and jeers from the crowd so he pulled his head back inside.

Bianca did not make an appearance.

Ohio Amateur List Is Thinned to 16

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 54th amateur golf championship moved into its third match-play round today without last year's king but with 16 talented aspirants fighting for the crown. All survivors won two matches Thursday.

Tony Blom of Cincinnati, the 1959 winner, was dethroned in the second round by two-time state public links champion Jack Zimmerman of Dayton. Zimmerman's impressive 5 and 4 victory threw the race wide open and moved the 32-year-old aeronautical engineer into the forefront of the favorites. No public links player has ever won the amateur title.

Two 18 - hole rounds, cutting what's left of the original field of 205 to the four semifinalists, were scheduled today over Zanesville Country Club's 7,020-yard, par 72 course.

The match getting top billing was between Dan Carmichael of Columbus, this year's qualifying medalist, and Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati, who led the list a year ago and reached the finals against Blom.

Besides being medalists the two titans have other similarities. Carmichael was a naval air ace and Duccilli a bomber pilot in World War II. And both are in the "elder statesmen" group here, being among the four oldest of the 16 survivors. Carmichael, an architect, 52 1/2; Duccilli, a general practitioner, is 36.

Still in the running are two public links players and both have won the state pay-as-you-go title.

Jaycees, 3rd National, Oilers Ramble to Little Loop Wins

Jaycees, Third National Bank and Circleville Oil rambled to Little League victories here yesterday.

Jaycees, still rolling along undefeated, smothered Second National Bank, 19-8, Third National edged past Ward's Market, 11-10, and Circleville Oil took the measure of Lincoln Plastic, 9-4.

Redlegs Hope For Best in Pirate Series

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Unless the All-Star layoff has changed the picture considerably, the Pittsburgh Pirates will be in a position to fatten their National League lead during the next three days.

The Cincinnati Reds will be here for a four-game series, starting tonight, and the Reds have been just about the softest touches the Pirates could ask for.

Pittsburgh has won nine of ten games the two teams have played this year, eight of them in a row. Over the last two seasons, the Bucs have won 15 of 17 games played against Cincinnati here in Forbes Field.

To make the situation even worse from a Cincinnati standpoint, the Reds will have to face the Pirates' one - two pitching punch—Bob Friend and Vernon Law—in the first two games here.

Manager Danny Burtch said he expects to use Wilmer Mizell and Tom Cheney in Sunday's double header. Both beat Cincinnati their last outings.

Against that setup, the Reds were to open with Jim O'Toole tonight and start Jay Hook Saturday. That probably would put Sunday's pitching chores up to Bob Purkey and Don Newcombe.

The Pittsburgh jinx was only one of the worries confronting Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson, however.

Of prime concern was whether the four-day layoff has restored the batting eyes of a flock of the Reds. A protracted hitting slump has wrecked Cincinnati chances of staying close to the league leaders.

Broncos Trim DuPont, 11-8

Defeat Gives GE First Round Title

Ashville handed invading DuPont an 11-8 loss yesterday to dash all hopes of the locals gaining a first place in the first round of Babe Ruth baseball competition.

The DuPont defeat left General Electric in sole possession of the first round's top spot. The GE crew ended with a 7-3 record compared to 6-4 marks registered by DuPont and Chamber of Commerce.

Ashville struck fast yesterday, scoring five runs in the first inning after the visitors had tallied two in the opening frame.

The Broncos kept the fire going with two more runs in the second, one in the third, two in the fifth and one in the sixth.

DUPONT opened with two, got another in the second, then staged a rally for four in the fifth. The losers picked up one more in the seventh after going scoreless in the sixth.

Sonny Roof went the distance for Ashville as he held the potent DuPont swingers in check with eight hits. George Reeser was charged with the loss as he permitted 10 bingles.

Roof fanned four and walked six. Reeser fired third strikes past third and walked 10.

Ashville's Tom Rathburn was a mainstay at the plate, hitting safely in all three official times at bat. One of his blows was a double which drove in a run.

Roof aided his own cause with two hits in four trips. One of his singles brought in two runs in the first.

Reeser swung a big bat for DuPont as he belted the ball for two safeties in four tries. One of his knooks was a run-producing double in the fifth.

DICK Kline and Ray Crawford also cracked doubles for DuPont.

The game was a makeup contest which had been postponed due to rain earlier in the season. Ashville and DuPont are slated to tangle again today at 5:15 p. m. on the Ted Lewis Park softball diamond in a second round contest.

Games Saturday at the Park have Chamber of Commerce vs. Kiwanis at 8:15 a. m., Chamber of Commerce vs. DuPont at 10:30 a. m., GE vs. Derby at 1:30 p. m., all on the softball diamond, and Savings Bank vs. First National Bank at 8:30 a. m. on the Little League diamond.

Other games today lists Blue Ribbon Dairy vs. Rotary at the Southend Playground, The Herald vs. BPO Elks on the Little League diamond, both at 5:15 p. m. and Purina vs. Coca-Cola at 7:30 p. m. on the softball diamond.

Tiny Texan ,17, Vies for Title

Girl Faces Veterans In Trans-Miss Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 17-year-old tiny Texan with a hot putter as a prime weapon goes gunning today for a place in the finals of the 30th annual Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament and a possible championship.

But Sandra Haynie, the Austin, Tex., high school senior who stands only five-feet, three-inches tall, faces a huge task.

The three other golfing gals remaining for semifinal play are veterans of big time competition even though two of them are young enough to have played and finished one-two in this year's National Intercollegiate.

Joining Miss Haynie in the semifinals were JoAnne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash.; Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., and Mrs. Jason Weiss of Indianapolis. Mrs. Weiss was runnerup for the Women's Western in 1954, for the National Amateur in 1955 and was a member of the 1956 Curtis Cup team.

Mrs. Gunderson was National Amateur champ in 1957. She played on the 1958 and 1960 Curtis Cup teams and beat Miss Eller in the finals of this year's National Intercollegiate.

Miss Eller won the intercollegiate crown last year and played on this year's Curtis Cup team.

Thursday, Miss Haynie survived a bad round in beating Wanda Sowell of Tyler, Tex., and then

Rookie, 3 Vets Pace Detroit Test

DETROIT (AP) — Three veterans who have had some long gulps from professional golf's big-money fountain and a freckled rookie trying for his first sip shared the lead as the $25,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered the second round today.

Redhead Butch Baird, a game little Texan trying to strike it rich on the bigtime circuit, barged into first round leadership with veterans Bob Rosburg, Jack Burke and Fred Hawkins.

Each fired a three-under-par 69 Thursday as the massive field of 158 went almost from daylight to dark in first day action.

That was good for a one-stroke lead over 10 other players. A total of 32 bettered par 36-36-72 at Western Golf and Country Club's 6,800-yard test.

Ladies Day Golf Enjoyed by 14

Ladies Golf Day was held Thursday at the Pickaway Country Club with 14 members taking part in the activity.

Winners of the Best Ball team were Betty Young and Caroline Champion. The winner for low putts was Mary Carpenter.

Next golf meeting will be Thursday at the Pickaway Country Club.

came storming back to wallop Judy Easterbrook of Peoria, Ill., 7 and 6. She had only 18 putts on the 12 holes and finished one under par.

"I Don't Want the STRAW VOTE JUST HONEST-TO-GOODNESS BEER DRINKERS!"

LAST NIGHT, the man from Wiedemann made it clear he wasn't after the soda pop vote. "I want only honest-to-goodness beer drinkers on my side," he opined. "Wiedemann's is the most drinkable beer of all!" he continued. "It goes down easy, glass after glass, because we brew in live flavor, brew out heavy after-taste!" A constituent at the back of the hall shouted, "That's telling 'em, brother!" He replied, "I don't know who you are, friend, but thanks." The constituent was in fact later identified as the Candidate's brother.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband and father, Donald E. Rader, who passed away July 15, 1959.
Gone is the face we loved so dear.
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech.
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here.
And who, tho absent, is just as dear.
While I would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see.
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
Thou art gone, dear father,
Gone beyond the world of tears.
But the memory of you will ever linger
Through the passing years.
A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
There is a sad, but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true.
There is a token of affection, Father
And a heartache still for you.
Sadly missed by wife, Eloise,
Daughters, Charlotte, Karen &
Susie; Sons, Bob and Dick.

Woman Freed By Reds Heads For Hospital

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mrs. Katherine Voronoff, 73, who came from Russia to rejoin her children after 24 years, will be flown to Los Angeles Saturday and placed under observation in a clinic.

Two of her sons said she needs medical attention quickly. She will go to Los Angeles for treatment because she will make her home there with a son, Alexander Voronoff.

"We don't know what is wrong," said another son, Paul D. Vernon of Indianapolis, who anglicized the family name. "She has constant noise in one ear, trouble with her stomach and tires easily."

The children fled Russia in 1937, a year after Mrs. Voronoff was banished to Siberia. They discovered two years ago that she was alive in Odessa. After two years of effort, they obtained a visa and she flew here July 8.

She had planned to spend two weeks here with Paul's family, fly to Cleveland for a two week visit with two other children, Peter and Mrs. Daniel Wills, an then go to Minneapolis for two weeks with another son, Timothy.

Instead, she is going to Cleveland today and then to Los Angeles.

Her husband, John, a minister, was banished to Siberia in 1932. She said she believes he is still alive.

GI Home Loan Law Extended For 2 Years

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill extending for two more years the GI home loan program for World War II veterans.

In the 14 years the program has been in effect, five million veterans have acquired 40 billion dollars worth of property through low interest loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

The bill also continues for another two years the appropriation of 150 million dollars a year for direct loans to veterans unable to get private loans at the government-guaranteed interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent.

Both programs would have expired July 25. For Korean War veterans, the guaranteed loan program is in effect until 1965.

The administration had opposed extending the World War II program any further, but the bill passed both houses of Congress by overwhelming margins.

Water-Cooled Engine

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — When another motorist drove along side Wallace Horn Jr. and told him his car engine, located in the rear, was a fire, Horn did the best thing he could think of under the circumstances.

He backed the small foreign car down an embankment into a stream of water.
